S.H.S. BREWS UP A 'HORRIFIC' HOMECOMING

"Spirit Week" was a week that students will never forget. A week of school competitions and school spirit made "Spirit Week" 1988 the most enjoyable in years.

The week's festivities kicked off with pajama day, a day when all students dressed in their best sleeping clothes. There were "Garfield" pajamas to "Esleep" sleepwear. Some of the teachers participated in the fun, and this day by far beat out all the others.

Going back in time seemed to be the students' theme in school Tuesday and Wednesday. Tuesday was the day for laid back hair styles and flaired skirts, particularly known as poodle skirts. That was sixties day when everyone dressed as though they were from a decade ago. Wednesday was toga day, the day of Greek-looking wardrobes and ripped up sheets. It made coming to school feel like being in ancient Rome. Finishing up the week were Thursday, college t-shirt day, and Friday, the traditional blue and white day.

In-school competition heated up, while out-of-school competition was shaping up! Powder puff was the name and football was the game. Seniors and juniors went at it again. Like most years, seniors went all the way with Ginny Hilborn scoring two touchdowns to make it a 14-0 victory. Juniors, did play a good game though and didn't give up easily.

Like every year there was a big pep assembly. There were events such as wheelchair races, balloon races, and a messy whip cream event for the court. Then came the teachers' scooter race. No one will forget that!

Although the football game was not successful with Olivet defeating the Rams 42-6, halftime festivities were highlighted by the crowning of queen Kathy Hart.

Upperclasswomen feeling spirit

Many feelings arose in the 1988-89 Powderpuff game between the Seniors and the Juniors. Some were happy, some sad, some were glad, and the rest were just plain mad.

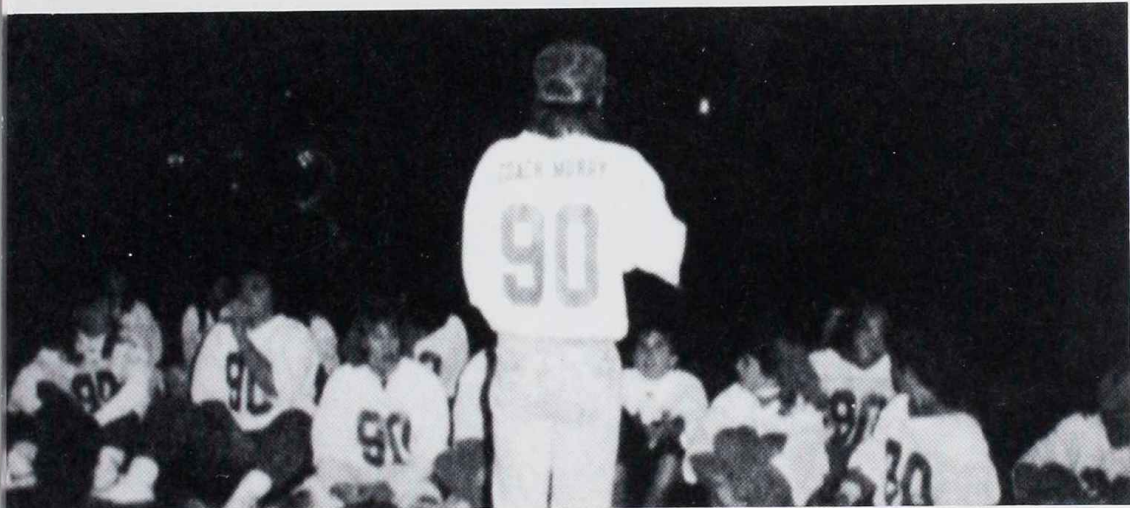

The game was October 6th at 7:30. Ginny Hilborn scored the touchdowns for the Seniors. That left the score 14-0. Juniors played tough defense, but it wasn't enough to capture the win.

Carnival sparks wintertime

Winter Carnival got off to a great start with spirit week. Monday was pajama day, Tuesday was twin day, Wednesday was favorite college day, Thursday was dress-up day, and Friday was traditional blue and white day. Winter Carnival was a huge success. One of the booths that seemed to draw the most attention was the Junior pie in the face booth. Other popular booths were the Senior cake walk, the Sophomore ring toss, and the Freshman lollipop tree. Friday night the Rams lost to the St. Phil Tigers, but a lot of people came to the game to cheer the Rams on. At halftime Bill Sween and Rhonda Fortner were named Winter Carnival King and Queen. Saturday night everyone celebrated at the dance which was delayed by Ty Cobb.

Bitar named new superintendent

Former superintendent, Bruce Sellers, retired May 1, 1989. Mr. Sellers had been with the Springfield Schools for 25½ years and for the past three years was the superintendent of Battle Creek Schools. With a unanimous vote from the Battle Creek Board of Education, Mr. Michael Bitar succeeded Mr. Sellers. Mr. Bitar joined the Battle Creek Schools 18 months before becoming superintendent. Mr. Bitar's first goal as superintendent was to improve programs that were already taking place. He commented that the school system has an experienced staff and the strength of the school is within the staff. Mr. Bitar stated his goal was to provide a more comprehensive and quality instructional program for the students in the Battle Creek School system.

1. Freshman show their spirit with their RETURN TO HORROR HIGH float.

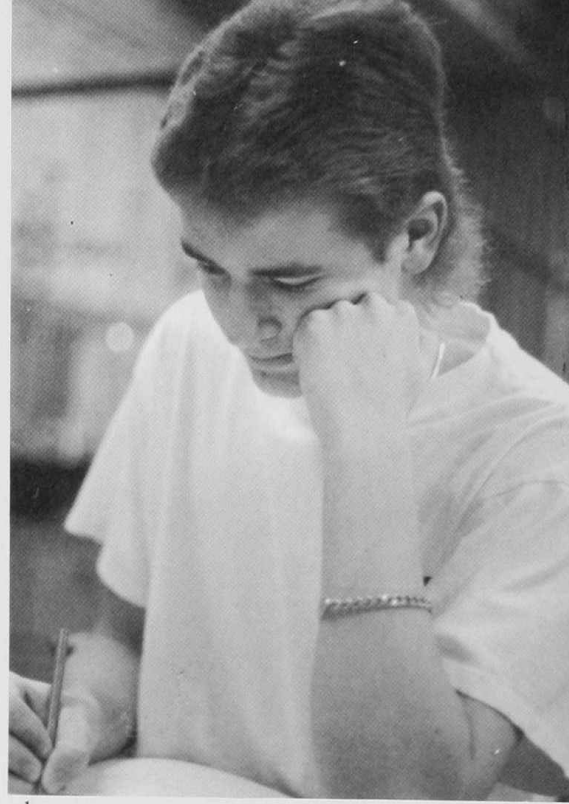

Freshmen

The class of 1992 may have come to the high school with some questions about what to expect, but they did a great job on all their yearly tasks. The first job to tackle was their homecoming float. Following the theme of "horror movies", the class chose "Return to Horror High" and finished in fourth place. The next job for the new class came with Winter Ball and Carnival. The top eight of the class were Pat Casebeer, Eric Kane, Todd Fenlon, Dave Duncan, Tonya Brown, Lisa Gentry, Susan Riley, and Heather Ulery. The freshman class had "ring toss", "sucker tree", and "teddy bear raffle" as their games. Heather Ulery, Tara Hicks, Leasa Tichenor, Tonya Brown, Lisa Gentry, Denny Seivert, Abby Badger, Chris Johnson, and Debbie Cannon helped work that day. The freshmen held a candy sale as their fund raiser. The class was represented in student council by Eric Kane, Dave Duncan, Todd Fenlon, and Heather Ulery.

The freshmen were the winners of the new PASS-Ram Program. They won the most points for participation, percent of students on the honor roll, and number of students with the least number of "e's" on their report cards. As a reward for superior school spirit, the class received a day long trip to Boblo Island in May.

Springfield's sophomores experienced a busy season starting off with homecoming activities. Following the theme of horror movies, they chose "Ram Massacre", worked on it at Jennifer Clark's house, and finished in third place. The next yearly task was Winter Ball and Carnival in February. The following sophomores made top eight: Jennifer Clark, Missy Hall, Angie McMillon, Jamie Cornwell; Ryan Nusbaum, Lance Anderson, Dan Moss, and Heath Guerrero. The class also participated in Winter Carnival by having pin the arms on the snowman, clothes pin drop, and ring toss as their booths. Missy Hill, Chris Evans, Darrell Morrison, Jennifer Clark, and Christi Smith helped work that day. Besides class officers, student council representatives were Julie Christensen, Christi Smith, and Jim Mellon. Willetta White was the only sophomore to participate in the student council sponsored donkey basketball game.

The class was entitled to new privileges. This was the first year they were able to go to Battle Creek Central for classes. Also, they had the opportunity to go to the Calhoun Vocational Center for orientation and some in the class were able to order their class rings.

Juniors

The Junior class took off in a bang this year with a homecoming float called "Ramityville Horror" which placed second. Next came Winter Carnival and the Juniors' four booths which made 520 tickets. Three daring people, Rhonda Fortner, Lisa Stevens and Christy Jones volunteered to get smacked in the face with sticky whip cream in the pie-in-the-face booth. The second booth, hockey shoot, was run by Ernie Johnson, and hoop-it was run by Lori Mack, Rebecca MaGaha and Amanda Fuller. The last booth was made up and run by Mike Morey and Chuck Truex. The juniors also sold balloons and ran the snack bar with Jill Hull and Kari Tyler in charge.

The top eight of the Junior class were Jim Isaacson, Mike Morey, Mike Mileski, Chuck Truex, Rhonda Fortner, Amy Korp, Lori Mack and Kary Tyler. Mike Morey, Kary Tyler and Rhonda Fortner represented the Junior class on the Top Ten. Rhonda Fortner was the 1988-89 Winterball Queen.

The Juniors had a candy sale, a dance and organized a volleyball game for the boys called "Volleyboy" They also put on the junior-senior prom called "Stairway to Heaven."

Rams Claim Victory Over Morrice

The 1988 football season was difficult in that many injuries plagued the ranks of the Rams for much of the season. The season was not a total loss, though as the Rams beat Morrice 36-16. The Rams also had very close games with Saranac and Climax-Scotts. Captains for the 1988 football season were Chad Wilkins and Bill Sween. The most improved players were Keith Baldwin and Greg Weever. Making the defensive plays of the year was Chad Wilkins with 96 tackles. The most valuable back was Bill Sween. Although being sidelined for the majority of the season, Sween still managed to complete 30 passes for 326 yards while healthy. Next to Sween in the backfield was Chuck Truex who earned the most yards rushing with 385. The most valuable linemen were Jeff Converse and Chris Evans.

The freshman basketball team played very well on the court. A couple of players to watch in the future years will be Pat Casebeer and Greg Williams. Both players went up to play for the JV for the last few weeks of the season. "This was one of the better freshman teams we have seen in along time"; said Coach Bundy.

Varsity volleyball started on a good note with the Rams defeating Maple Valley, but the rest of the season was a tough one. At the end of the year, Rhonda Fortner won best defensive player, best all-around, and Miss Spirit. Tammy Richards received best offensive player and best serve. Christina Walker gained most improved, and Christi Jones won the coach's award. Cindy Pulsipher made the all-conference team with Rhonda Fortner receiving honorable mention and Christina Walker gaining special mention. Cindy Pulsipher also made honorable mention for the all-city team and Rhonda Fortner received special mention. On the comical side Cindy Pulsipher gained the honor for "most likely to be late" award and Jamie Fleming won the honor for "most gossipy".

Doug Sage, at weight 171, captured the championship pin at state finals on February 17th at Battle Creek Central Field House. His season record was 44-0. He also accumulated 29 pins throughout his season.

Springfield High School attended five tournaments. At the Pennfield Invitational, they placed seventh with 80 points. At Harper Creek Optimist, they finished in fourth place with 108 points. Then came our invitational. They came in fourth place with 89 points. At the Athens Invitational, they accumulated 73½ points putting them in tenth place. Finally, at the SMAA conference tournament they finished in fifth place with 77 points.

At districts they had three qualifiers. They were Doug Sage, Brian Woodard, and Dan Lawrence. From there, Doug and Brian went on to regionals. Brian came in third.

Track season races through another year.

Track season started off with ten guys, but by the end of the season, the team was down to seven. The hardest part of the season for the coaches and the team members was going to a relay with so very few people. The season ended with the awarded for the Most Valuable Player claimed by Ken Johnson. Sam Conklin won Most Improved.

The track season was also hard for the girls. Their first two meets were rained out, but from there on in the rains came on strong. The girls won one meet against Covert, 72-40. They also did considerably well at Regionals with Betrice Gray scoring one point in the 100 yard dash. Awards given by the coaches included Betrice Gray, Most Valuable Player, and Jennifer Aaberg, Most Improved. Kathy Hart and Lori Mack were elected Captains, and the Coach's Award went to Lori Mack.

A homerun was not such a difficult task for the Rams with five players hitting 12 homeruns this season. Chad Wilkin's grand slam against Maple Valley was the highlight of homeruns.

The most memorable game was against the Cereal City Classic Champions, class B Lakeview. Losing by only three runs, Jim Isaacson charged for the Rams with two homeruns, a double and five runs batted in.

Senior Bill Sween led the team with a .508 batting average and also set a school record of 29 successful stolen bases in 29 attempts.

Named All Conference were Bill Sween and, for a phenomenal third time, Brian Woodard. Chuck Truex and Bill Sween were named All City.

At the awards dinner, Bill Sween took Most Valuable Player and Jim Isaacson was named Most Improved. Tri-Captains were Chad Wilkins, Bill Sween, and Brian Woodard.

The softball team consisted of five seniors, and two juniors; the rest were underclassmen with little or no experience on a varsity level. Once the season was almost over, the Rams were able to pull off some wins. The season ended on a high note with the Rams beating Class A Battle Creek Central. Rhonda Fortner, while hitting five homeruns, was chosen for All-City, All-Conference and All-District teams. Fortner also captured the most valuable player award. April Barnes was named most improved and Abby Badger got the coach's award. April Barnes and Rhonda Fortner were named co-captains.

National Honor Society demonstrates good qualities

Quiz Bowl applauds best season ever

National Honor Society is an organization for students who have a grade point average of at least 3.1. Each student who qualifies is then rated by the faculty on character, leadership, and service. Also to remain a member they must have 20 hours of community service each year. They helped with the Christmas baskets for the needy and some helped with Expo 89.

The S.M.A.A. Quiz Bowl has a six week season beginning with a tournament in early December. Each match consists of seventy questions dealing with fine arts, English, math, current events, science, and social studies. The team finished in fourth place; it was their best season ever.

S.A.D.D. accomplishes plenty

Students Against Drunk Driving organized many events for students to participate in during the 88-89 school year. They provided tags with S.A.D.D. messages attached to the flowers that were sold during homecoming week. Also during homecoming, they had Parent-Student and Student-Student S.A.D.D. contracts available. The program is making people aware of the problems with drinking and driving.

Leadership Conference is Planned By and For Students

The fact that students plan their own conference makes Student Leadership Forum unique. Students that participate in the forum cover a variety of topics presented by adults. Topics included time management, teen suicide, coping with negative change, preparing for ACT, self-image, and class officer training. It was the sixth annual conference and it was held at Albion College on October 17-18.

Expo awards two students

What's Expo? Well, Expo is an Art Competition for 7-12 graders. The categories include ceramics, writing, drawing, sketching, metal & wood shop, music, painting, photography, and sculpture. Out of the 14 entries, two students won Honorary Mention. They were La-Tonya Smith for her dog-head sculpture, and Scott Smith for his wood table.

Student Council Launches Donkey Basketball

The Council took a leadership role in school activities. They planned two big dances and sponsored the Donkey Basketball game which was part of the Pass Program. They also gave a spaghetti supper the day of the crowning of Winter Ball King and Queen to raise money for some other school activities. Ending with a poster sale, the Student Council with its nineteen members had a successful year.

Seniors

The senior class was astonished by the bright colors of the hall lockers as they entered the school in August. The beginning of the wild school year got off to a tremendous start when the senior float, Nightmare on Upton Avenue: Rams Revenge, took first place. For winter Carnival Court, the school chose Tammy Richards, Debbie Cornwell, Ginny Hilborn, Kary Tyler, Rhonda Fortner, Doug Sage, Brian Woodard, Mike Morey, Terry Bell, and Bill Sween. At the carnival the seniors had three booths. Tammy Richards and Cindy Pulsipher ran the cake walk and Ginny Hilborn, Debbie Cornwell, Kelly Smith, and Kim Stockman monitored the balloon toss. Jamie Fleming and Tracey Robbins had the fantastic privilege of painting youngsters' faces at the paint-a-face booth. Selling candy bars, the seniors raised money to purchase t-shirts with all of their names printed in the form of an "89". They used the remainder of the money to have a pizza party in the school courtyard.

Student Achievement Recognized

The Students of Springfield were honored for achievements during the awards assembly on May 23. The awards were given for a wide variety of activities and achievements. Several senior awards were announced including the Senior Math award given to Jack Thom. Kathy Hart won the Woodman of the World, which is a senior U.S. History award.

Other seniors honored were Frank Knapp and Mike Beem with the Senior Art award. The U.S. Army Reserve Athletic Scholar awards were claimed by Cindy Pulsipher and Brain Woodard. The U.S. Marines gave Cathy Hart and Frank Knapp their Athletic Scholar awards.

Each year the Paul Dodge award is given in memory of Paul Dodge, a member of Springfield's first senior class who died during his senior year. The senior who shows outstanding citizenship and contributes to our school is chosen by the senior class and faculty. The Paul Dodge award was presented to Frank Knapp.

Students see D.C. Close-up

Seven students from Springfield High went to Washington D.C. through the Close-up program. They learned about the three government branches and how the branches work together to run our country. They also saw many historical sites in the Washington area, like the Arlington National Cemetery, the White House, and the Lincoln Memorial. The Springfield chaperone was Mrs. Oberdoerster, our librarian.

David Peevers, Becky Sackett, Jamie Fleming, Tracy Halbert, Stephanie Gray. Missing: Veronika Nagy and Cindy Pulsipher.

On May 12, the "Grim Reaper", the symbol of death, came into a SHS classroom every 22 minutes to paint a student's face white to symbolize that that student was the victim of an alcohol-related accident. For the remainder of the day, the students attended class but didn't speak. They demonstrated what it would be like to lose a classmate. The 22 minutes signified the fact that every 22 minutes a young person dies in a drunk driving accident.

During the day S.A.D.D. held a poster contest. Cindy Crawford came in first winning ten dollars, followed by April Barnes with a prize of five dollars, and Mike Morey in third place with a three dollar prize.

At lunchtime there was a coffin in the cafeteria. All the students who were dead for the day sat next to the coffin as a reminder that if you drink and drive you have a high possibility of dying.

1. Stephanie Gray and Ron Gillson portray dead teens to encourage prom-goers not to drink and drive.
2. Kary Tyler makes a gruesome face while the Grim Reaper takes her life.

They achieved goals with honors

Valedictorian Jack Thom achieved honors by accumulating during his high school years a G.P.A. of 3.829. The clubs and activities which kept him busy included: Boys State in summer '88, Science Olympiad, Expo '88, National Honor Society, and Quiz Bowl. He was listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students and was a camp counselor for two years at Y-Camp. Jack kept occupied with Varsity Tennis all four years. He earned SHS Student of the Month and Battle Creek Rotary Club Student of the Month. Jack received a scholarship letter along with SMAA academic honors. He is employed at Battle Creek Enquirer and is a Leila Hospital volunteer and a youth server at Redemption Lutheran church.

Springfield High bids farewell to graduates

The class of 1989 marched onto the athletic field at three o'clock to the sound of "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the Battle Creek Central High School Band under the direction of Mr. Robert Peters and Mr. Thomas Berryman.

Dan Lawrence set the tone with invocation which was followed by a welcome from Principal Mr. Douglas Kane. The audience then heard the Salutatorian Address given by Heather Clemence. Representing the class of 1989, Deborah Cornwell and Jamie Fleming delivered a Commencement Address. The B.C.C.H.S. band then played "Selections from 'Lionel'". The Superintendent of Battle Creek Public Schools, Mr. Michael Bitar, introduced Mrs. Janice Munther who gave the guest Commencement Address.

Scholarships winners rose as they were recognized by Mr. Joe Noto. The seniors then stood to receive diplomas as their names were read by class president Ginny Hilborn. All Board of Education members attended and President and Vice President, Dr. Sally A. Turner and Mr. Robert D. Gifford, presented the diplomas.

The Valedictorian Address was delivered by Jack Thom, and Kimberly Stockman ended the ceremony with the Benediction.
